DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 17, 19, 39-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vardi et al. (6,325,826) in view of Vrba (6,168,621). Vardi et al. disclose all the limitation of the claims except fail to disclose moveable members being self-expandable such that the movable members being self expanded radially outward from the stent wall. Vrba disclose a hybrid stent having a elongated portion being balloon expandable and movable members (12) being self expanded radially outward from the stent wall such that the balloon expanding the elongate portion extending within the stent wall from a proximal end to a distal end of the stent body.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Vardi et al.'s stent by having the movable members being self-expanded in order to eliminate the step of repositioning of the balloon a side opening in order to expand the movable members.

Regarding the bulge portion, the portion of the balloon at the opening is inherently bulge out as the balloon expanded due to the lack of resistance from the stent wall.

4. Furthermore claims 41-56, 59, 60, 62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vardi et al. (6,325,826) in view of Myler (5,632,762). Vardi et al. disclose all the limitation of the claims except fail to disclose a balloon having a preconfigured bulge region such that when in the expanded configuration, the bulge region push against movable members to push the movable members radially outward. Myler disclose a modify geometry of the balloon to have a bulge region to push movable members radially outward (fig. 7). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Vardi et al.'s balloon to have a bulge region to push the movable members radially outward in order to eliminate the step of repositioning the balloon or using a second balloon with different diameter. Note: Although, the balloon of Myler having the bulge region at the proximal end, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the Vardi et al.'s balloon having the bulge region at around the mid section of Vardi et al.'s balloon that allows the bulge to extend outwardly from side opening Vardi et al.'s stent.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
